DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-35, drawn to fluid pumping apparatus (subcombination).

Group II, claim(s) 36-45, drawn to a generally planar component for use in fluid pumping apparatus.

Group III, claim(s) 46-56, drawn to a fluid pumping apparatus with an elongate fluid channel (subcombination)..

Group IV, claim(s) 57-78, drawn to droplet deposition apparatus (subcombination)

Group V, claim(s) 79-91, drawn to droplet deposition apparatus with an elongate liquid channel.

Group VI, claim(s) 92-102, drawn to a method of manufacturing droplet deposition apparatus.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I, II, III, IV, V, and VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The groups listed above are not within the permitted combination of different categories of inventions. That is four apparatuses, one product, and one process. As set forth in the form PCT/IPEA/210, there is no special technical feature that defines a contribution over the prior art.

3. Upon the election of invention of I, II, III, IV, V, or VI, the applicant is further required to elect one of the following disclosed species. The species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1

The species are as follows:

- A. The embodiment of the one flexure element extending across the full width of the channel wall.
- B. The embodiment of the one flexure element extending across a portion of the width of the channel wall.
- C. The embodiment of the channel walls formed by machining.
- D. The embodiment of the channel walls formed by electroforming.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: Claim 7

Species B: Claim 8

Species C: Claims 26 and 74

Species D: Claims 27 and 75

The following claim(s) are generic: none.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Species A and B are different configurations of the flexure element that could produce different effects or results. Species C and D are two different methods by which a channel wall can be formed. Each species method effects the structure of the channel walls differently, which may result in the channel walls not having the same characteristics.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Lisa M. Solomon whose telephone number is (571) 272-1701. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday from 8:00 am - 4:30 pm.
